

Aqualuna Singers are on the lookout for a new Musical Director for 2023.

About Aqualuna Singers:

Founded in 2006, the Aqualuna Singers are a community a cappella choir based in Lane Cove, Sydney. It has been under the direction of Dr Philip Eames since 2016, who has decided to step down. We currently rehearse from the beautiful outlook of St Aidan's Church Hall, 1 Christina St, Longueville.

Aqualuna Singers explore an eclectic range of choral repertoire, including folk, contemporary and original arrangements. While we aim for a high singing standard, the Aqualuna Singers are inclusive of all levels of singing experience and emphasise a love and enjoyment of singing above all else. Being an unaccompanied ensemble, we particularly focus on blending with one another while remaining adaptable to the diverse range of music we sing.

In addition to our own annual end-of-year showcase, Aqualuna Singers are regular features at the choral festivals in and around Sydney and have appeared in partnership with many other Sydney choirs, including the Phoenix Youth Choir, Chorella, and Pymont Sings.

Aqualuna Singers rehearse on Wednesday evenings during the school terms from 7:30 to 9:30pm, St Aidan's Church Hall.

The ideal candidate will:

- be able to commit to weekly rehearsals
- be piano competent (NB: There is no accompanist for this choir)
- be able to prepare and conduct the choir for occasional performance opportunities
- be able to prepare and conduct the choir for a major end-of-year concert
- be able to develop the choral sound of an a cappella community group with diverse levels of choral experience
- engage with the choir to develop a repertoire featuring both accessible and challenging works across a number of different styles

Please email forward a detailed biography, resume and contact details for two musical references to Paula Nigem (Coordinator) at info@aqualunasingers.com
